

READ ME!

This was a late night job.

Things may be wrong, if you find any let me know and I'll try and help as much as I can.

This was written on an apache server using MySQL. I doubt it'll work on anything else.

Instructions:

1. Open all the HTML and PHP files and read the comments I put in. Then you will know what is happening to the file.
2. Make sure you create your own MySQL connect file or fill out the one I have included.
3. Do not forget to import the blobs database I have supplied. Once you've learnt the scripts you can then edit it with ease anyway.

If you like the Java upload applet, go and purchase a version from them. Or at least visit their site and read the documentation on it. You can do a lot more with it than this does.

I'd also like to say thank you to Mitchell Harper, who wrote the article that taught me to use BLOBS. This can be found at:

If anyone does use this and you find a problem, let me know? It'd be great to hear about.
